

WRITING HOME—to Ireland—is Dr. Margaret Hosey, who arrived in Palm Springs this week for "relaxation." The medic came to America expressly for the birth of her grand niece but in true medical tradition, lost the race with the stork.

STORK BEATS MEDIC IN 6,000 MILE RACE

An Irish doctor who lost a 6,000-mile race with the stork relaxed in Palm Springs yesterday and recounted her losing effort.

Dr. Margaret Hosey, a general practitioner in Dublin, Ireland, left for the United States in what she felt would be ample time to reach the bedside of her niece in Los Angeles.

The niece, Dr. Gabriele Hosey O'Keefe, was a psychiatrist before resigning to have her family.

"She didn't expect the child until Oct. 31," Dr. Hosey said yesterday at the Lone Palm Hotel.

But the child, Walter John O'Keefe, was born on Oct. 13 and the Irish medic got the news — by cable — aboard the Queen Mary. Four days later she arrived in Los Angeles and helped take her niece home with the new addition.

Her brown eyes aglow and her gently greying hair ruffled by the slight breeze, Dr. Hosey said she was "captivated" by Palm Springs and sat down on the spot to write post cards to friends in Ireland echoing that sentiment.

She intends to spend the rest of the week here, then return to Los Angeles where she'll spend more time with her niece and grand-nephew. She was disappointed about missing the birth, but philosophical, too.

"It was a first baby," she sighed. "You know how that is. You just never can be sure . . ."

One of Every Two Cancer Victims May Be Cured Now

CHICAGO — (UPI) — An official of the American Cancer Society has reported that more than 800,000 persons in the United States have been cured of the disease and that present skills may cure one of every two cancer victims.

Mefford F. Runyon, New York also left the door open for a society-sponsored test of the controversial cancer drug krebiozen provided the testing meets "the recognized standards of the scientific community."

RUNYON, EXECUTIVE vice president of the cancer organization, said Thursday that in addition to the 800,000 survivors of cancer in America another 900,000 persons who have received treatment were undergoing five-year observation to determine if the cure has taken.

His prediction that 50 per cent success was possible hinged on the afflicted person's making full and early use of existing modern facilities.

"IT IS UP TO THE individual," Runyon said. "His life is in his own hands and the first doctor who sees him."

Runyon said the present encouraging picture contrasted sharply with earlier years. In 1913, when only one in 10 persons was cured, 1930, one in five, and today's one in three.

Referring to the krebiozen controversy, Runyon said the society would like to see it settled "and the drug made available to doctors and the public if it is of value."

KREBIOZEN'S CHAMPION Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, University of Illinois physiologist, has sought repeatedly for the society's approval of a testing. His latest setback came last month when the group's board of directors turned down Ivy's proposal for a test with separate control groups. At that time, the board questioned the validity of such a test.

Runyon made it clear the next move must come from Ivy, complete with an acceptable testing plan.

Runyon's remarks were termed "encouraging" by Ivy who said they would be given the "careful consideration" of the Krebiozen Foundation.

DHS Takes Step For Incorporation

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — This thriving desert spa today is taking initial steps to prepare information for its incorporation, and within the next week plans to circulate the information to local people in an order to secure backing to put the issue to a vote.

Rolf Skovholt, president of the Chamber of Commerce which has taken the initiative in the incorporation move, said today that "although we are not completely ready to go, we are getting nearer to the date to file a notice of intention to circulate a petition."

THE COMMUNITY, in incorporating, would cover approximately 14 square miles, containing more than 4,000 residents. According to Skovholt, the area within the new city limits would be from Indian Avenue on the west to two miles beyond the Highland Hot Springs area on the east, from Sixteenth Street on the north to the northern border of the previously proposed border of North Palm Springs on the south.

The Chamber spokesman said that there was no organized opposition to incorporation, and added that he doubted if there would be after the "fact folder" had been distributed to the residents. The folder will outline the advantages of incorporation.

SKOVHOLT EXPLAINED that the County of Riverside now takes about $100,000 a year out of the Desert Hot Springs area "and only about $35,000 is spent here. The city would be getting taxes that are now paid to the county for all the special districts that are set up. They are charging us double for road work and double for lighting. These funds could be used to support the city."

"It will cost approximately $1,500 to get things started for incorporation, which we will get from private subscription, but everyone seems to be in favor of incorporation, and everything certainly points to the fact we would be better off incorporated," he added.

1959 RYDER CUP MATCHES TO RETURN TO PALM SPRINGS

Alert Officer Grabs Gun From Suspect

Man Arrested On Concealed Weapons Charge

A 45-year-old man was arrested last night on concealed weapons charges after he allegedly attempted to reach for a gun on the floor of his car while he was being questioned by police officer Robert Flavin on suspicion of drunkenness.

Dalton Hubbard Taylor was taken into custody after a complaint was called to the police department by M. L. Horner of 267 South Via Palmas, who said that a man was parked in front of his home and was apparently drunk.

OFFICER FLAVIN arrived at the scene, where he found Taylor asleep on the front seat of the car. Flavin awoke the suspect and asked him for identification and the man gave it to him.

After talking for a minute or so, Taylor leaned forward over the steering wheel and started groping on the floor, as Flavin noticed a gun lying there.

THE OFFICER pulled his service revolver, scooped the gun off the car floor, and searched the suspect. Taylor was handcuffed and taken to the police department by officer Carl Hulslander, who was called to the scene by Flavin for assistance.

A search of the car uncovered a box of 32 caliber bullets and a money sack, both in the compartment, and the sack was printed with the inscription "Bank of Santa Monica." The gun was identified as a 7.65mm dark blue Oietro Beretta automatic pistol loaded with six rounds of ammunition in the clip and a seventh bullet in the chamber.

AN "ALL POINTS" bulletin was sent out concerning Taylor, along with a request to Santa Monica to check on possible burglary, theft or armed robbery of money in a sack of this description.

Taylor, in a statement written after his arrest, made no excuse for his attempt to get the gun off the floor of the car but explained that he had gotten the gun from someone else who had won it in a raffle. "He gave me the gun in lieu of some money he owned me," Taylor added.

He indicated that he did a lot of traveling, and "while traveling I kept the gun on the floor of the car."

Bulganin Ouster Is Explained

Linked with Anti-Party Group For First Time

MOSCOW — (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev has linked former Premier Nikolai Bulganin for the first time with the "anti-party group" of Soviet leaders who were expelled from the Soviet leadership in July 1957.

Official explanation of the downfall of Bulganin came in a report by Khrushchev to the central committee of the Communist Party in which Khrushchev outlined a new seven-year program to increase industrial production by 80 per cent.

PRAVDA, OFFICIAL organ of the Communist Party, devoted eight of its ten pages today to the Wednesday Khrushchev report. The news had been broadcast to the world Thursday night by Moscow Radio.

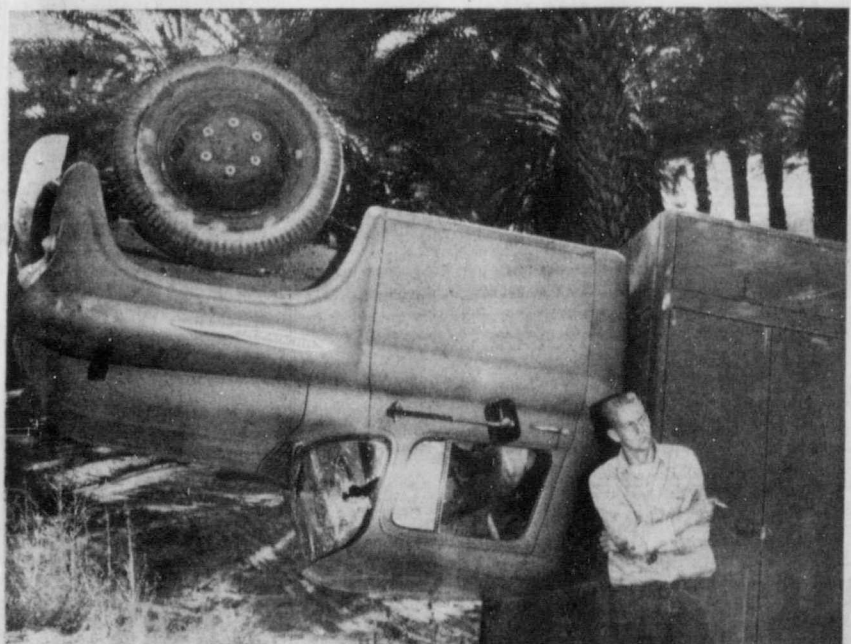

The Khrushchev report disclosed for the first time why Bulganin was ousted after he remained in office for more than a year after the disgrace of the five other party leaders who opposed Khrushchev.

THE FOUR OTHER members of the "anti-party group" were former Premier and Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, former Premier Georgi Malenkov, former Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov and Lazar Kaganovich, former member of the Presidium. All were sent to minor jobs in remote places.

It was never officially announced but it was reported that one reason Bulganin stayed in office longer was that he switched his vote at a meeting of the central committee in 1957 and voted against the Molotov group. Today's reports made it clear he was a member of the anti-party group.

Legion to Fete Boys, Girls State Choices at Hall

Five Palm Springs High School students — four boys and one girl — selected to attend Boys and Girls State in Sacramento this year, will be honored at a dinner to be given at 6:45 p.m., Tuesday, in Legion Memorial Hall.

The five and their sponsors are Joe Henderson Jr., by Lions Club; Jack Norie, by Joe Leonard, Sr. David Sing, by Haig Harris; Joe Lewis, by American Legion, and Hazel Micelli, by American Legion Auxiliary.

THE DINNER IS being given jointly by the Legion and its Auxiliary. High school students who flew to Washington, D. C., to serve as student ambassadors on an educational tour of the capital have also been invited. They are Donive Ellison, Hazel Micelli, Frank Hilton, Jr., and Joe Henderson.

GUESTS OF THE two Legion units for the occasion will include parents of some of the honored students and Schools Supt. and Mrs. Dwight E. Twist, Palm Springs High School Principal and Mrs. Charles Webster.

Eldorado Selected As Site

The 1959 Ryder Cup Matches, the traditional golf rivalry between the ten top professionals of the United States and Great Britain, have been set for the new Eldorado Country Club, it was announced today by Robert P. McCulloch, club president.

The decision to hold the Ryder Cup Matches in Palm Springs was made at the annual meeting of the Professional Golfers Association Tuesday at Dunedin, Fla., at the PGA headquarters.

IT WILL MARK THE second time that the Ryder Cup Matches have been set for Palm Springs, the last time being in 1955 when they were held at Thunderbird Country Club. Palm Springs has the distinction of being the only city in the United States that has been chosen twice for the games.

Florida made a very strong bid for the Ryder Cup Matches but promotion and constant work by five Eldorado men, McCulloch, Johnny Dawson, J. Ross Clark, Jimmy Jones and Ronald Williams, were able to bring them here. These men spent four years working on returning the matches here.

ONE OF THE MAIN factors in the decision to bring the matches to Palm Springs, aside from the perfect weather in November, was the layout of the new Eldorado golf course. It is the only course in the world that was designed to make television coverage possible, and to allow the gallery to watch "almost all the games while they sit on the patio of the clubhouse."

Dawson, vice president of Eldorado, said today that the course would be a real test for the Ryder Cup players (they will play over 7,000 yards on the 18-hole course) and will be a magnificent test of golf.

GETTING THE RYDER Cup Matches in Palm Springs for a second time, added Dawson, "is another step in the promotion of the desert area which now is recognized as the Winter Golf Capital of the World."

Eldorado Country Club has set its entire program to the bringing of top national golfers and golfing events to the desert, and has planned the course with a new concept in gallery participation in the events.

The Ryder Cup Matches will be played Nov. 7 and 8, 1959.

Education Board Breaks 'Desert Cooler Barrier'

Board of Education members last night cracked through the "desert cooler barrier," bringing refrigerated air conditioning to school classrooms for the first time in district history.

Shedding their initial reluctance to authorize a break from a decade of building tradition, a majority of board members ordered refrigeration units for two classrooms and a science room on an "experimental basis."

THE ACTION CAPPED an hour-long, uphill battle for refrigeration proponents who won a four-to-one vote for plans that may eventually have all district school youngsters basking in the comfort of "controlled weather."

Half - heartedly introduced in board building sessions during the past few years, the refrigeration plan was returned to the board last night by Architect John Clark.

CLARK, WHO WAS scheduled to present preliminary plans for two Cathedral City School classrooms, offered the board a choice of refrigerated air condition or evaporative cooling units at a difference in cost of $395.

He explained that perfection of mechanical air - cooled refrigeration units had reduced initial cost, which heretofore had prejudiced the case of refrigerated cooling proposals.

SUPPORTED BY Architects Don Wexler and Stewart Williams, Clark related that the compact refrigeration units would cost the taxpayers "about $1 a year per pupil," or, roughly, about one percent more than desert cooler systems.

Reduced building costs would be achieved through elimination of required duct space and similar factors, Clark added.

FOLLOWING REJECTION of Poliak's motion, President Arnold Rumwell's remark that "we'll just have to stay back with the old folks" rekindled the argument that led to passage of the plan.

Board members voted to approve Wexler's preliminary plans for a refrigeration - cooled, $100,000 addition to the high school science building, scheduled for completion by Nov. 1, 1959.

Architect Clark will introduce his preliminary classroom plans — similarly refrigerated — at the next board session.

Consultant Defends Project

City Sewer Controversy Continues; Engineer Hired

Whether Palm Springs is buying a good sewer line or a bad one will be determined within the next two weeks, after a special engineer, Richard D. Pomeroy, makes a trip to Palm Springs and checks the sewer project.

The city's engineering consultant on the job, Marion Crist, told the City Council last night that "although the new sewer line is not perfect, it is an excellent job . . . I think the entire issue is a tempest in a teapot; we even have heard that pipe bells were broken, and my firm will put up its reputation on the construction of the line."

CRIST ADDED THAT he would "pay $1,000 for every broken bell that was found in the line that leaked."

However, Crist listed a number of things which he found wrong with the line when he checked it from the manholes. Wednesday and listed them as "one place where the alignment missed by about one inch, another where the line sagged and another where a piece of jute was hanging down in the line, but none of these are major enough to justify correction."

WHEN EXPLAINING the leakage of the line and the use of Bentonite in order to pass the required tests, Crist said that the inspecting engineer was to blame for the use of the Bentonite, and said that the leakage was "not very bad." Using figures for the council, Crist explained that a one-inch square hole in a pipe would leak approximately 23 gallons a minute, and "one section of the North Palm Canyon Drive line leaked at the rate of about 18 gallons a minute."

The council, still not sure of the situation, appropriated "up to $1,- 000" for the special engineer and the cost of taking pictures inside the pipe. The pictures will be studied by engineers and a decision will be made by the next council meeting.

CRIST ALSO WENT into payment for the project. He explained that the job, which had originally been estimated at a cost of $85,743 was contracted for $80,058. Additional cost of the job for unknown incidents raised the cost another $2,692, making the total cost of the project $82,751. He asked for payment of the bills plus an additional cost for the engineer who was kept on the job for 26 days over the completion date — $780.

The contractors were due to complete the job on Sept. 18, and an extension of time gave them until Oct. 2, but they did not record completion of the job until Oct. 28, 26 days later.

JOHN WOOD WAS SWORN in as a Palm Springs City Councilman prior to the start of Wednesday night's session, by City Clerk Mary Gene Ringwald, as members of the council look on. In the background, seated are Councilmen Leonard Wolf,

Mary Carlin and Ted McKinney. Councilwoman Ruth Hardy is not pictured. Wood was appointed by the council to fill the unexpired term of Florian G. Boyd, who died Oct. 22. He has approximately a year and a half yet to serve. (Desert Sun Photo.)

Billboard Survey Tells Violations

County planning officials are today analyzing a report that some 1,400 signboards form a polka-dot trail along Highway 111 from Indio to Palm Springs.

County Planning Director Tyler Sues said that "We will proceed with some program of regulation enforcement" after the report is presented to the planning commission.

THE REPORT, BASED on a survey ordered by planning commissioners last month, showed that comparatively few signs are actually billboards, Sues stated. "The vast majority of these signs are probably okay," Sues remarked, "but many are out-and-out violations of county ordinances."

HARRY SCHMITZ, of the Palm

Desert county office, compiled the report and noted that some 169 signs may be classified as billboards.

Sues said that some violate setback provisions and others have been erected without building permits or variances.

Signs may be erected without variance permits in manufacturing zones, but require special consideration for residential or interim zones.

IN THE CASE of billboards advertising housing developments, Sues noted that "there is no special provision."

The commission has a policy of allowing housing billboards to be erected with a variance for a limited period of time. Bonds must be posted by the builder to insure the time limit.

"As soon as we are through with the report, we will have a session with the commission to plan action against violators," Sues said today.

Barking Dogs

FERGUS FALLS, Minn.—(UPI)—If you believe its constitution, the Anti-Horse Thief Association, formed here in 1872, was a band of blood-thirsty vigilantes.

The charter says "it shall be the sworn duty of any and all members of this society," having nabbed a horse thief with the goods, "to promptly execute the said horse thief, by hanging, or in the absence of facilities for hanging by shooting."

But the Minnesota Historical Society said the association was little more than a social club and that horse thieves really had little to fear from its members.

NOT ONE, BUT TWO chefs hold forth now in the kitchens of the newly reopened Palm House dining room. Tony Roffo, who has served as master chef in such gourmet palaces as the Shadow Mountain Club and Desert Inn in Palm Springs and the Brown Derby, Westside Tennis Club and Trocadero in Los Angeles, heads the culinary staff at the Palm House but he has major assistance from Alfonso Horta, who was master chef in several places — including New York's Latin Quarter — himself. The pair are inspecting one of Roffo's delicacies, a prime rib roast, prior to sending it out into the dining room.

'Very Large' Bali Bali Boss To Have 'Very Large' Party

Steve (Very Large) Remy, the Bali Bali's new manager, will be hosted at a "very large" party in his honor Monday night, Jack Lee, operator of the Bali Bali and manager of the Royal Palms Hotel, announced today.

The well known club, located on Palm Canyon Drive, has continually carried as its slogan having the "Happiest Bartenders in Town," and will add the new manager officially to the staff at the Monday party.

When the rumor that he was to take over the management of the Bali Bali Lounge was confirmed last week, "Very Large" Remy's friends, and according to Lee he has "a jillion," indicated they wanted to hold a party in his honor.

"When so many reservation requests came in," Lee said, "we decided to make the party a real gala affair—a regular New Year's Carnival—and invite everybody."

Eddie Barnes and his boys will play for the entertainment and dancing, and Remy, who has bought a trombone (and can't play a note, they say) will try to squeeze out a tune. However, Lee promised, "we won't let him play more than one!"

New Sears, Roebuck Store To Hold Opening Nov. 20

Completion of the new Sears, Roebuck and Co. Catalogue Sales Office — a department store in books — is rapidly nearing and will be accomplished in time for the scheduled Nov. 20 grand opening ceremonies, Manager Cecile Smith said yesterday.

The office, at 120 South Indian Avenue, has undergone a complete face-lifting in anticipation of the new tenant, the manager said.

The new Sears facility here will place more than 120,000 items at the selection of Palm Springs shoppers. Samples of many of those items will be on display at the office and fabric swatch books will also be available.

Expediting of orders will be accomplished at substantial savings through a group shipping plan.

A home telephone order service, a Palm Springs credit office, estimating service on home improvements and on plumbing, heating and carpeting will also be offered by the seven-person office staff.

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Lawrence Miller, referee in bankruptcy, today set Nov. 26 for oral arguments in a case involving the transfer from California to Chicago of attempts to seize assets in a California bankruptcy case.

Miller heard witnesses testify on the claims of the trustee to justify fees presented to U. S. District Court here in the case, involving claims against A. M. Liebling, formerly of Palm Springs, his wife, Fay, and his daughter, Mrs. Esther Frank.

The case involves claims against Liebling for unsatisfied judgments on mortgages. A trustee's claim has said that Liebling has assets to satisfy the claims of creditors, but that he had put assets and property in the names of his wife and daughter while retaining control of the business affairs.

Miller said that he had three sets of briefs in the case now and that the oral arguments would be brief. Maurice Walsh, attorney for the Lieblings, contends the case should not be judged here, although this now is Liebling's residence, but in California where it originated.

Today's hearing and that on Nov. 26 are to determine whether the trustee is correct in claiming fees from the court here.

Ross Elected New Captain of Mounted Police

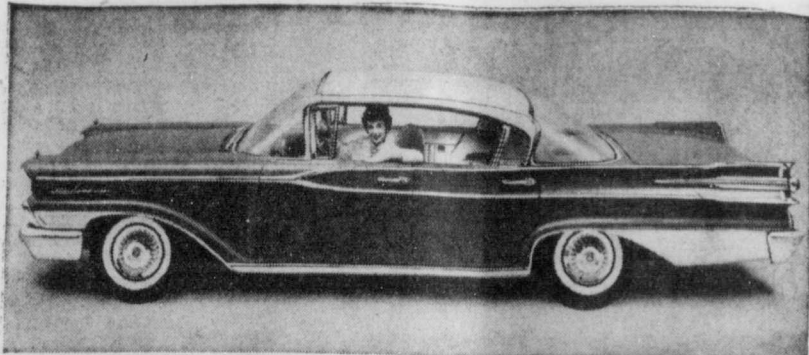

New officers of the Palm Springs Mounted Police were elected Wednesday night at a meeting of the organization at the Los Compadres Clubhouse.

Fred Ross, a member of the Mounted Police for eight years, was elected captain. Other officers include Ray Abbey, first lieutenant; John Hollinger, second lieutenant; and Joe Butler, Rodeo chairman.

The board of directors includes the officers and George Rasmussen, Joe Berta, Bill Allred and Cliff Campbell.

The Rodeo has been set for Feb. 6 and 7. On Nov. 30 the Mounted Police will hold an afternoon training ride and dinner for its members and their wives.

Area Population of 172,000 Forecast Within Few Years

Within a few years the population of the Coachella Valley area between the west side of Palm Springs and Mecca will be 172,000, Robert Anderson, county administrator, told members of Palm Springs Lions Club, meeting yesterday noon in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi.

Eight years ago the population of the entire county was 170,000 he added, indicating the amazing growth of the desert area.

ANDERSON'S TALK was based on the problems facing the county government and this great growth of the desert provides one of the biggest.

Answering this problem of growth, he said, supervisors are setting up two primary civic centers in the county, one, the present center at the county seat, Riverside, and the other in the desert area at Indio.

HE THANKED Palm Springs and the surrounding area for its vigorous support of the four bond issues on the ballot at last week's election and said the passage of the bonds will enable the county to proceed with its program of capital improvements for facilities on the desert.

These, he said, will provide a great savings in present transportation costs, when completed.

ANDERSON SAID that the county tax rate of $1.64 compare favorably with counties of a similar size even though they did not have the great growth that this area has experienced in the past few years.

He touched on plans for county facilities in cities of this area to aid in the county's economy by reducing costs and said that they can be carried out with no increase in the present tax rate.

New Labor Bill Announced

WASHINGTON, (UPI) — Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), is working on a new labor reform bill expected to be tougher than the Kennedy-Ives bill which was passed by the Senate but rejected by the House this year.

McClellan, chairman of the Senate Reckets Committee, disclosed Tuesday that he plans to offer a bill to the new Congress which will convene in January. He said "the need for legislation is already clear."

The rackets group Thursday will open intensive hearings into secondary boycotts-union campaigns by picketing or other tactics against companies not directly involved in labor disputes. McClellan returned to the capital Tuesday to preside over the new hearings.

Big, New Mercury Arrives in Palm Springs Today

Mercury for 1959—the biggest car in the medium-priced field—will make its Palm Springs debut today at Palm Springs Lincoln-Mercury Co.

Al Sirott and Paul Smolker, co-owners of the dealership here, said that the 1959 Mercury has successfully combined mechanical excellence with designing advances to create a "totally new car for 1959."

"This new Mercury is the only medium-priced car designed specifically and exclusively for the medium-priced field," Sirott said. "Even, other medium-priced cars for 1959 share its body shell with a low-priced car make."

3—Introduction of a concealed package compartment beneath the rear floorboard and a completely self-storing third seat in the "Country Cruiser" station wagon series.

Sirott and Smolker pointed out that Mercury is the only station wagon in the medium-price range to offer a two-door model and added that Mercury is also the only wagon manufacturer in the medium range to hardtop all of its wagons.

"The car is new in styling, too," said Smolker. "Additional emphasis has been placed on the 'side projectile' theme."

THE THEME STARTS at the front door and sweeps along the side, blending into the massive taillight assembly.

Technically, the 1959 Mercury is powered by its 383 and 430 cubic inch Marauder series engines and by the 312 cubic inch plant in the Monterey line. Two improved automatic transmissions are also available, the Merc-O-Matic single range and the Multi-Drive Merc-O-Matic. Conventional transmissions are still available, too. In construction, the 1959 Mercury's frame has been designed to halt dive, utilizes wider, longer rear springs, introduces a longer wheelbase and has shock-free steering in both conventional and power-steering packages.

Need to Promote Truthfulness In Political Advertising Apparent

Ineffectiveness and inadequacy of existing laws with regard to truthful advertising . . . insofar as political advertising is concerned . . . was amply demonstrated in the recent general election in California.

In the commercial world an advertiser is strictly prohibited from false advertising, and can be fined, jailed or even put out of business for violations.

Not so with political advertising. Because of the constitutional provision for freedom of speech and the great amount of the same used in politics, anything short of personal libel is neither controllable nor actionable in court.

The only enforceable requirements are that the source of printed political matter and the person or organization responsible for same be identified. In view of the common usage of "committees" as sponsors these regulations have no real effect on political advertising from a standpoint of responsibility to the public.

On the contrary, radio and television stations are subject to revocation of license for refusing political advertising and cannot censor it, no matter how objectionable or patently false the "copy." Even newspapers are subject to possible suit for rejection of political advertisements and have no clear cut legal censorship grounds, although they have the editorial privilege of pointing out the falsity of any such matter to their readers.

The excessive "freedom" allowed political advertisers in the use of the mails, billboards, radio and television, including even some instances of newspaper advertising, has grown into a modern Frankenstein threatening destruction of the high ideals for truth and fairness in political campaigns.

This was clearly demonstrated in the recent California election which admittedly sank to an all-time low for deliberate distortion of facts and attempts to stir up race, religious and class bigotry. Especially was this true on several of the propositions. Regardless of which "side" a TV or radio listener favored, it was clear that "his" side as well as the other were shouting terse unqualified words or phrases often misleading, plainly prejudiced and unsupported by actual facts. On occasion, it seemed a question of the winner being the side which could spend the most money to tell the most "convincing" distortion the most often.

Now that the heat or battle has died down after election, the time is propitious for reflective examination of the faults, abuses and dangers of continuance of such practices in the future.

There is no doubt that everyone including the opposing factions deplores the lowering of political standards and departure from traditional ethics. What can be done, however, is another matter.

Little hope can be seen from the standpoint of new laws inasmuch as politics is primarily a matter of views and opinions and freedom of speech too broad for strict definition regulation.

Rather, it would seem that the most effective approach would be through the advertising industry itself, principally through the agencies which prepare "copy" since most candidates and groups of proponents or opponents employ advertising or publicity firms to conduct their campaigns and advertising.

In California or elsewhere an ethics committee composed of representatives of the agencies, the press and impartial but informed citizens could be formed to examine, approve or disapprove of political advertising copy prior to release. No compulsion would be involved but the approval by the committee would mean much to the public in affirming the truthfulness and propriety of statements made.

In addition, if each announcement or advertisement carried the name of the originating advertising or publicity agency responsible, the praise or objections of the public could be communicated directly and not diverted towards the newspapers and broadcasting stations which are only the medium of presentation.

Such a plan now has the serious consideration of the major groups in the press and advertising industry. It would at least be well worth a try to encourage and promote higher political advertising standards. The public is entitled to a reasonable guarantee of truthfulness and responsibility of political advertising.

Only Poison Gas in the Far East

My, but some of them
Will surely look weird
When all in Palm Desert
Come up with a beard.

That is, all but the women and children.

PALM DESERT is going to celebrate its 12th birthday next month, December 3 to 7, with a Gay Nineties Week.

And the Honorary Mayor of Palm Desert, of whom you may have heard, a Mr. Bing Crosby, has proclaimed that everyone in Palm Desert, with the exception noted above, has to grow some sort of hirsute covering, be it chin, cheek or upper lip, for the occasion.

MR. CROSBY, among his multifarious holdings, apparently has no interest in any shaving cream razor or lotion industry.

Think of the effect of this edict on the companies who make our sports television shows possible!

Because it's going to take some Palm Desert residents between now and December 3 to cultivate a respectable face coverage. And they won't be shaving any of that time.

On the other hand, it will be an excuse for those too lazy for the daily scrape.

EVERYBODY SEEMS to have a theme song these days—even the people who encounter the law.

For instance, this youth, David McKinley Sex, who gained the sympathy of Villagers when he told them he had served time and all that he wanted now was a chance to go straight. Then he shook them up when he "confessed" to a murder on the Mojave desert, giving all details even to how and where he had buried his victim.

POLICE CHECKED his story thoroughly but after getting a backache in vain digging for the corpse, gave it up.

So now Sex, who is also known as Delmar Speer, is sitting in a cell awaiting a forgery hearing and probably adopting as his theme song that old popular number:

"I Ain't Got No Body."

EFFICIENCY IS THE word these days—efficiency and labor saving.

During my morning rambles I have noted delivery trucks leaving long, narrow caravans at men's clothing stores and, always curious, wanted to know what was in them.

"Men's suits," was the answer. "That's the way they deliver them now days. On hangers and neatly pressed. Looks more attractive to the customer, saves time in fitting and after alterations, money in pressing."

AND DON'T FORGET, you don't have to be all dressed up in expensive Western clothes with no place to go, because there is no Western Week here this year. Don the outfit and join Rancho Mirage in its "Round-Up Week."

There's still time. The climax comes tomorrow night at a big square dance.

Lastly—Bert Kruse says "No woman is too cunning for words."

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

Up in the cool of the morning with the bluejays raising sand in the oak trees and the yellow fall leaves blowing on the hillside.

I think I will make this a lazy day. Once I interviewed Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt writes a daily piece called "My Day," and believe me, it is a busy day.

"How do you find so many things to write about, Mrs. Roosevelt?"

"So many things happen," she said simply.

NOTHING HAPPENS to me. Not only that. I do not intend to let many things happen to me. It would wear me out. Just what does happen has me in a fair fizzle.

I have read the newspaper and find it mighty gloomy.

The average American girl kisses 79 men before she gets married. That is what I read in the papers. I think I am number 80. Nothing much happens to me.

I HAVE MY colorful copy of Mainliner. This is a magazine put out by Gregg Perry, who used to be in Honolulu for United Airlines. Now he puts out Mainliner and slips it in the back of the plane seat—alongside the up cup and the pamphlet telling you how to get out of the plane in case you ditch.

(I consider this the roughest editorial job of our editorial times.)

We have a story about Evelyn Anderson, a second generation stewardess.

HER MAMA WAS a stewardess. And Evelyn is a stewardess. This is a remarkable state of affairs. I sort of thought we were all staying youthful together—the stewardesses and I. I did not know they were ringing in fresh talent.

The whole story has made me feel mighty decrepit. I am a piston engine boy in a jet age. Why didn't they stay with the Ford Tri-motor? Now there was a plane that — But who wants to listen to an old boulevardier's memories?

EARL WILSON:

Mike DiSalle for President?

NEW YORK — There's a story going around that Mike DiSalle—the former Price Stabilizer just elected governor of Ohio — was asked whether he'd be available for President in 1960.

"I was available in 1950," he supposedly replied.

Mike — just back in Toledo after visiting his daughter at St. Mary's in South Bend, and about to visit his parents in Fort Lauderdale — actually said "Are you kidding?" when I asked him the 1960 question by phone.

Born in Greenwich Village, a New Yorker who went to Ohio to make good, Mike will be "good copy" from Columbus starting Jan. 12. Once when somebody said his political foe Sen. Bricker made a good speech, Mike said, "He should've been making it for 30 years." Mike gave an intimate dinner which was crashed by a political notable. Mike told the crasher, "I'd have invited you except that I was afraid you could make it."

Conway Twitty, the hottest new singer in many months, has just been signed for a Perry Como TV spot by Don Seat of Tin Pan Alley who not only manages Twitty but gave him that melodic moniker. Twitty, real name Harold Jenkins, was a handsome fence-busting young minor league ball player whom Seat heard about in Cincinnati and Nashville. Son of a Mississippi ferry boat skipper, who learned to strum the guitar in Helena, Ark., Twitty writes his own songs — and his big one, "It's Only Make Believe," is going to make him the Pat Boone and Johnny Raye of '58.

"I don't know how I thought of that name for him," Seat says, "but when I mentioned it, everybody flipped." Everybody's still flipping.

Guess Montgomery Clift isn't marrying Myrna Loy after all. He was back at the Volins with Libby Holman. . . Playwright Harry Kurnitz, discussing the rumor that he looks like a check-kicker, quoted Harry Ruby's claim that he "looks like a dishonest Abe Lincoln." . . Congressman Jim Healy, just reelected, was saluted by Toots Shor bartender Dick Andrews: "Then they can fool all the people all the time."

Remember when Robert Merrill blasted Maria Callas in an interview not many months ago — and the Met commanded him to hush up? . . . A tipster from the Swedish Pavilion says Maria'll

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Need Brave Actors

HOLLYWOOD — Producer Milton Sperling is tagging Tony Curtis to play the high-wire man and Yul Brynner to play the lion tamer in Cinerama's first non-travelogue picture, "Cinerama Circus." Sperling told me, "We'll need brave actors for this picture and brother, are they brave these days—their asking price is $750,000 per picture!"

Sidewalk sidewise following Gen. Arthur Trudeau's speech at the Statler on atomic weapons: An angry "fan" mistook him for Gen. "Ramfis" Trujillo, pushed past the police guard, and BLASTED the flabbergasted U. S. Army biggie for "giving all those mink coats and cars to those movie stars — YOU, with wife and seven kids at home—you oughta be ashamed of yourself!"

CBS MAY SETTLE its long time tiff with Judy Garland via a January spec co-starring Judy and Leonard Bernstein, with MGMogul Chuck Walters directing. . . Coleen Gray will recite Carl Sandburg's "The Frog" at UCLA's "Salute to Sandburg," Nov. 23 and I know why: It JUMPS!

Paramount borrowed Keith Larsen from MGM-TV's Northwest Passage series to sneer at Sophia Loren as the heavy in Par's new Western movie, "Heller with a Gun" . . . The Maharaja of Rajasthan gifted Debra Paget with a baby elephant—a white one. This should look very chic parked next to her sequin-studded Cadillac outside her home on Beverly Hills' swanky Crescent Drive.

I THINK I'll go on record right here and now with the observation that David Niven turns in the greatest performance of the year as the Major in Hecht-Hill-Lancaster's "Separate Tables," and with such tough competition as Deborah Kerr, Burt Lancaster and Rita Hayworth. It's also David's best Oscarer since he's been in camera focus—yep, even better than Spencer Tracy in "The Old Man and the Sea" or "The Last Hurrah." So the odds are on Niven to cop the best-actor Oscar for '58!

Cornel Wilde and Walter Wanger are discussing a film version of Karel Capek's old robot caper of the 20's for the Theatre Guild, "R. U. R." . . . I asked Jim Backus if his wife really collaborated with him in writing "Rocks on now do "Tantrum of the Opera". . . Joe Pasternak's film "Party Girl" is doing o well at its theater here that they call the house "Joe's State". . .

Eloise McElhone slimmed down 25 pounds in one month and will undertake a TV comeback after cutting off 20 more in the next four weeks. Eloise, now Mrs. Bill Wariwick, mother of a 6-year-old daughter and another of 18 months, diets by using a highly-advertised pill. I asked her if she'd be as acerbic on TV now as she used to be on "Leave It To The Girls," and she smiled and said, "I've mellowed." It was Eloise who took off her false eyelashes on TV once and discovered that girls looked just as good without them, thus saving thousands of hours for TV actresses and panelists since.

Flash From London: "Auntie Mame" Producer David Pelham is flying stars of London shows—Bea Lillie, Vivien Leigh, Charles Laughton, Trevor Howard, etc.—to Paris for the weekend in a chartered Viscount he's christened "Auntie Mame's Star Flight" and giving them a big Sunday night dinner party at the Tour d'Argent. London critics rapped "Auntie Mame" and it's one of Pelham's gimmicks which has helped make the show a London hit, anyway.

Some More Funny Signs: "Fight Unemployment: Get a Job!" . . . Florist truck: "Drive carefully our next load may be yours." . . . Rubbish truck: "Double your trash back if you're not satisfied with our service" in a store: "If we haven't got it, you don't need it" (all allegedly seen by Paul Morris). . . N.Y. State Police sign which happens to be alongside a cemetery on the Bronx River Pkwy: "Populated Area. Speed Limit 30 Mi. Per Hr."

The Midnight Earl. . . J. Arthur Rank wants to premiere "A Night to Remember"—about the Titanic sinking—aboard an ocean liner. . . Frank Sinatra took Nan Whitney to The Comptroller, gave the maitre d' a $30 tip. . . Red Buttons has grossed $250,000 since he won the Oscar last year. . . An exec of a top record company has a $150-per-week bill for marijuana. . . The State Bros'll open a Las Vegas duplicate of their successful L.A. night club.

the Roof." Barked Backus: "Collaborate? Henny collaborated so much I've shaving her head!"

CHANNEL CHATTER — What Makes Red Skelton Run: In order to beat another strike threatened by TV technicians, Red wrapped up his own show (on tape) and also taped one for Milton Berle, in one week—in addition to putting in seven nights and one matinee last week as the star of his Ritz Theatre variety show here in L.A., "The Clown and the Baton."

Will people pay to see Red in the flesh when they can get him for free on TV? The answer is yes—his own take for the week after paying David Rose and his sidemen and other expenses was well over $15,000.

THE WARNERS ARE brushing off two stories they bought from RKO after Tom O'Neil sold that studio to teleproducers Lucy Ball and Desi Arnaz. They're novels—"Cash McCall," an adventure yarn, and "Rachel Cade," story about a missionary nurse, former for Alan Ladd, latter for Jean Simmons.

Can't figure out why Anna Maria Alherghetti keeps denying she'll marry Buddy Bregman. She told me she would, so did Buddy, so did her mother. Hey, Anna Maria — that yes-I-will-not cat-and-mouse stuff went out with mah-jongg and Pola Negri!

RONNIE BURNS got the bug to live away from home for a stretch so Gracie Allen and George Burns made it easy for him by buying a bungalow of his own near Universal Studios. . . Edgar Bergen is "going straight" without Charlie McCarthy and his other woodheads. He'll belt out some straight dramatics opposite his wife in one of the Yancy Derringer segments, Mrs. Bergen being a regular on the series.

Lindsay Crosby of Bing's Bunch is lining up his own TV show (with pretty June Blair as mess sergeant!)—after his 12-week Army recruiting stint here in Los Angeles.

The Uncrowned King

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Although not on the ballot, Senator Lyndon Johnson must be called the national winner of 1958. He came through again as the Peerless Leader and showed the best pair of coattails in national politics.

While Vice President Nixon was saturating the contested States with his personality and vigor, Johnson dusted off his cowboy boots and made a selective descent into four States where Democratic chances of victory ran middlin' to poor. Johnson's visit was like one from Cinderella's fairy godmother to:

from Democratic defections. The sight of the Democratic leader in Salt Lake City with his arm around the candidate apparently steadied Democratic loyalties and saved their man.

Senator-elect Howard Cannon of Nevada was in a nip-and-tuck with the two-time winner, Republican Senator George Malone. Two factors were invisibly working for Malone. He, like his neighbor, Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, was running as an Old Guardsman and was not contaminated by the anti-Eisenhower vapors.

MALONE HAD ANOTHER and almost publicly unknown advantage. He happened to be a highly-respected and well-liked friend of another outdoor man, Lyndon Johnson. Had Johnson stayed out of Nevada, Malone might well have won. But the junior Senator, Alan Bible (D) asked Johnson to come in as a party measure. It finished the Senate career of a colorful and likable individualist, "Molly" Malone.

Senator-elect Vance Hartke of Indiana was winning anyhow, but Johnson's visit gave the Democrats Johnson also made television clips, among a few others, for Senator-elect Tom Dodd of Connecticut, and made personal appearances for both the Democratic Senate victors in West Virginia.

ON ELECTION NIGHT, Johnson was in Houston making a non-political speech to a group of city managers while Democratic Chairman Paul Butler was

In Washington taking bows for the party triumph. It seems in the part of justice as well as of practical politics that these clearly won on the record which the party made on Capitol Hill behind the Peerless Leader and Speaker Rayburn. When Democrats recover from their revels, it seems certain that somebody will notice the incongruity of the Chairman wearing the wreath which the Senator won.

NOR CAN IT LONG escape general notice that the Democratic "landslide" moved westward, a shift of the gravitational center that practically plants a magnet under Lyndon Johnson. While the Republicans were taking New York and fortifying the East, the Democrats took California with new Senate seats in Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia.

In addition, Johnson's conduct—or and admirer, Mike Mansfield of Montana, scored one of the highest percentage Democratic victories outside the South, while Johnson's crony and protege, George Smathers of Florida, became the most successful chairman that the Democratic Senate campaign committee has had within memory.

It's doubtful if anybody, in public or private, has ever wheedled or wrenched a commitment from Johnson on his presidential eligibility. But a whole lot of hard metals are attracted to a magnet. And what Mohammed said about the Mountain might not be so outlandish in a place like Texas.

SENATOR-ELECT Frank (Ted) Moss of Utah was running third in the polls and was suffering

Terrier Club Meets Here

Approximately 40 members of the Yorkshire Terrier Club of America met in Palm Springs for the first time in the club's history — at the Junipero Hotel Apartments last week.

Hosts for the meeting included Stella and Allen Davis Jr. of Palm Springs and Anita and Paul Grove of Palm Desert. The Davis couple is well known for breeding and showing Yorkshires and the Groves own the champion Chelsea of Ramon.

The members came from throughout Southern California points to attend the meeting here.

Museum Starts Guest Lectures

An illustrated talk on "The Future of Deserts" will be presented by Dr. Edmund C. Jaeger at 8 p.m. Friday in the first of the season's guest lecture programs at the new Desert Museum.

Museum director C. E. Smith also announced that Dr. Raymond Cowles, of the UCLA zoology department, will offer an illustrated lecture on "Growing Human Populations and Wildlife Conservation" at 8 p.m., Saturday.

The first Saturday field trip leaves the museum at 10 a.m., Saturday, for a hike into Dead Indian Canyon near Palm Desert. Participants are asked to bring lunch and water. All museum programs are open to the public without charge.

On-the-Job Training

HOUSTON, Tex. — (UPI) — Police Chief Carl Shuprine has instituted a new policy of hiring teen-age high school graduates as clerks so they can take on-the-job training as future officers. Shuprine said all candidates hired under the program must prove they are qualified as future officer candidates. He said the program would give boys several years of police training before they became eligible for duty as an officer at the age of 21.

The Latest Word on Eating Out

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Fifty-eight per cent of 5,000 restaurant-goers queried in a survey said a proper tip should be more than 15 per cent.

Other results of the poll (by Cue magazine):

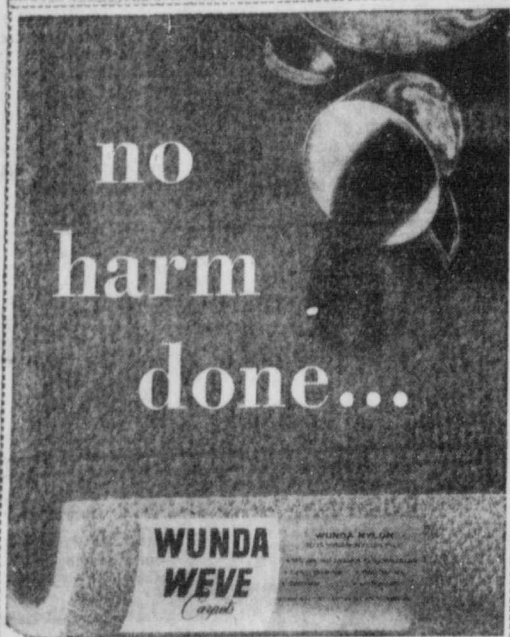

Waiters are preferred to waitresses by 68.4 per cent; 74.5 like waiters to suggest dishes; 72 per cent prefer continental to American cuisine; 55.5 per cent prefer full course menus to a la carte ones.

Booths are preferred to tables by 70.5 per cent and 72 per cent dislike eating in chain restaurants.

The restaurant-goers also like music while dining, object to paper doilies in place of tablecloths, and dislike paper napkins.

Diners consider $4 to $6 a moderate tab for a full course meal.

Eight out of 10 persons enjoy at least one cocktail before dinner. One out of two order wine with meals, and one out of two also enjoy an after-dinner cordial or brandy.

Yucca Film Tonight on Television

Judith Parker, Palm Springs model who is active in charity work and is heading the Yucca Valley Hospital Fund campaign, is featured in Jack McElroy's "Vacation Time" television movie, filmed in Yucca Valley last weekend.

The film will be shown this evening from 6:30 to 6:45 p.m., over NBC station, Channel 4.

In connection with the Hospital Fund drive, Miss Parker is arranging for local stars and personalities to participate in the "star-studded" weekend in Yucca Valley, to be known as "The Yucca Valley Round - Up of Stars," December 12-13-14.

Celebrities expected to appear include: Jimmy Van Heusen, Sammy Cahn, Phil Harris, Ben Gage, Hal Wallis, Alan Ladd, Cubby Broccoli, Desi Arnaz, Dale Robertson, Scott Brady, Ray Ryan (if he is here), Mayor Frank Bogert, according to Miss Parker. Eddie Susalla and Milt Hicks, golf pros and officials of Indian Wells are assisting in arranging a "Celebrity Golf Tournament" for December 13.

A cowboy marathon ride, headed by "Buck" Brown and participated in by several Western movie stars, will begin the weekend of events on Friday, December 12, and a full program of other events is planned.

List Lamb As Best Buy for Weekend Shoppers

By WILLIAM T. PLUNKETT
UPI Commodity Editor

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Lamb gambols to a contender position with pork and poultry in the "best buy" group for the weekend food shopper.

Red meat eaters will find attractive price tags on steaks, along with round, rib and chuck roast in some stores, supermarket merchants indicated today.

Lamb specials rack up to include: leg and shoulder roast; loin, rib and shoulder chops, along with shank and breast portions.

Broilers continue a relatively best buy in a wide poultry selection which includes: rock cornish hens, roasting and stewing chicken, fryers and chicken parts.

The retailer line-up in pork specials includes: rib end roast, fresh picnic hams, fresh pork shoulder, bacon, sausage meat and sausage links.

Port marketings are nearing their fall peak with supplies about equal to last year. Further minor declines can be expected on some pork cuts, market experts indicated.

Fish eaters will find an extra abundant supply on a wide variety of items. Fish prices are "reasonable" distributors said because supplies have been accumulating recently while the popular consumer taste switched to meat and other goods.

Biggest supply items this week: cod, flounder, whiting and butterfish. Plentiful — hake, pollack, striped bass, lemon sole and grey sole, porgies, mackerel, bluefish, red snapper, striped bass, along with oysters, crabmeat and shrimp in the shellfish group.

The Fishery Council reported an extra-good fresh water supply, including whitefish, yellow pike along with some lake erie smelts, carp and mullet.

Egg production is on the upswing, with supplies expected to exceed last year by about five per cent over the next few

Dinner Party Is Celebration for Two Birthdays

Honoring the birthdays of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Scully (hers was Sunday and his was Monday) Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cirone hosted a party at Howard Manor Monday evening.

Adding to the festive occasion was the fabulous Manor sparkler-lighted cake and the "Happy Birthday" song.

In the party were the Scullys' two children, Kathy and Jimmy. Scully, from Antioch, Illinois, is the brother of Mrs. Cirone. Cirones, of course, are the owners of the popular restaurant Cirone's Bit of Italy.

Clown-Faced Balloons Add to Birthday Festivity

Red, white and blue streamers and colored balloons with clown faces painted on them lent a real circus atmosphere to the birthday party of four-year-old J. Ross Clark III, who celebrated his birthday Sunday afternoon at the Thunderbird home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross Clark II.

Little J. Ross, whose birthday was really Monday, celebrated Sunday so his many friends could attend.

Favors of toy swans, holding gifts inside, were given to the children and they were delighted with the puppet show staged by the Barker Brothers of Los Angeles.

The beautiful carousel birthday cake was served with ice cream and milk and there were baskets of candy for each guest.

Among those wishing J. Ross "Happy Birthday" were Debra Ann and Gerald D'Ottavio, Cathy Cody, Kerry Lacanette, Jimmy and Carol Oliver, Michael and Scott Kiner, young Lucy and Desi Arnaz, Cameron Cameron, Tommy Davies, Susie and Stevie

Continental Touch

Add a continental touch to dinner with peas cooked in the Spanish manner.

Saute 2 or 3 sliced scallions in 2 tablespoons olive oil. Add 1 package frozen peas, unthawed, and cover saucepan tightly. After 2 or 3 minutes, break up frozen block with fork, season with dash of nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 2 tablespoons sherry, preferably a nutty amontillado type. Continue cooking, tightly covered, about 6 minutes, or until peas are tender. Do not add water.

EX-KING LEOPOLD III of Belgium, at right, on a visit to Palm Springs yesterday, stops on the Thunderbird Country Club golf course to talk with George E. Cameron, Jr., president of the Desert Sun Publishing Company, and Daphne Cameron. His Majesty arrived in Palm Springs Tuesday night and left last night for Las Vegas. Having spent four weeks in the United States on tour, he will go on to San Francisco for a visit and then to Vancouver, where he will leave for his return trip to Belgium. During his stay in Palm Springs he was hosted at a private dinner at the Ocotillo Lodge Tuesday night, played 18-holes of golf at Thunderbird Country Club before continuing his trip. The beauty of its setting . . . the wondrous sunshiny days and star-flecked nights . . . the delightful charm of casual desert living . . . make Palm Springs a place to cherish . . . but it's people that make a city . . . that bring life and laughter and love to what would be just a collection of empty streets and uninvited in houses . . . It's people who made Palm Springs what it is today . . . who created a style of architecture suited to the desert . . . who planned and created . . . and then fought the good fight to keep it that way . . . Today they come from round the world . . . to see what Palm Springs has that's special . . . Golf . . . and the fact that Palomar was fogged in . . . get the credit for one of our most distinguished visitors . . . who has been here and gone . . .

Except for the Kings and Queens who have reigned over Western Week (Remember King Phat the First) . . . and Prince Mike who now boasts of his American citizenship . . . royalty has never before visited the desert . . . so the visit this week of ex-King Leopold III of Belgium created a stir . . . and everyone was curious to know what a man who has sat on a throne and worn a crown looks like . . . Those who saw him at Thunderbird where he stayed overnight and played golf with Thunderbird president Kent Hayes the next day . . . describe him as tall, slender, blue-eyed, with graying blond hair . . . and about 57 years old . . .

George and Daphne Cameron hosted His Highness and his entourage, and Kent Hayes and Clark Hardwick at dinner at Ocotillo Lodge on Tuesday evening . . . and if you wonder what a King orders for dinner . . . it was that American favorite of steak . . . with avocados, which he called alligator pears . . . Actually Leopold speaks very little English and his Flemish baffled everyone except Maitre D' Emil . . . who personally supervised the small luncheon party in the Club lounge . . . which followed Wednesday's golf game . . . Despite his exalted title . . . some of the respect accorded him was due to his golf score . . . It was trim 4-over-par 76 . . .

His interpreter said that he liked Palm Springs . . . and enjoyed playing Thunderbird golf course . . . as much as President Eisenhower did . . .

Dining in Thunderbird dining room Tuesday night were the Frank Benders . . . who were celebrating his birthday . . . In their party were Ruth and Lou Manseau, the Eric Staintons, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Oakes . . .

Mrs. Jack (Buddy) Bligh . . . who's just back at their Thunderbird home . . . dined with Mrs. Mel Gray that evening . . . Jack will be out from Chicago in about a week . . .

Weekending at Thunderbird . . . are the Burt Lancasters . . .

Lillian and Franklin MacCarthy have gone into Los Angeles . . . to attend the Auto Show in Pan-Pacific Auditorium . . . It's an Assistance League Benefit with Lillian (Mrs. John) McClure as chairman . . .

Last evening . . . the MacCarthys entertained 18 at cocktails and dinner at the Beverly Hills Club . . . going on to the Show afterwards . . . They will be back in time for the Tennis Club opening tomorrow night . . .

Grace Pope and Anita Stewart Converse came down for Charlie Farrell's Millionaire Party . . . which they attended with Sewell Bradley . . . and those costumes were supposed to illustrate "Share the Wealth" . . . I dunno . . .

Tennis Club's Formal Opening Tomorrow Night

Famed Club Opens Doors for Season

Grand opening of the Tennis Club will take place tomorrow night when the beautiful hillside clubhouse and gardens will be aglow with lights. Mrs. Austin "Auntie Pearl" McManus once again will be at the helm of the club that she built and always has loved these many years. Many of the original members, who joined during her regime of operation, will again be on hand tomorrow night to add to the festivities.

John (Jack) Buchanan, who comes to Palm Springs to greet a host of friends now living here and many coming to the desert for the formal opening, will serve as manager of the smart spa. Jack Buchanan formerly was manager of Mission Inn in nearby Riverside. Also at the "tip of the steps" to welcome members and their many guests will be Joan McManus, who has been associated with the Tennis Club almost since its first opening, will again assume hostess duties.

Danceable tunes will be played by Tony Romero and his music masters. A number of parties are being made up by large groups moving here from Los Angeles, Riverside, Redlands and, of course, a big group of local home owners and visitors to Palm Springs will be on hand for the opening party. Among those having large tables near the dance floor are the Ed Robbins and their party, which will include the Harold Murphys, the Francis Pruitts, Miss Margaret Erwin of Los Angeles and Alan MacLain.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hilton have assembled a group of friends to share a table. In their party will be Miss Marion Huntington, and her sister, Mrs. John B. Metcalf, both of San Francisco; Mrs. Charles Dant, Mr. and Mrs. J. Blake Field, and Mrs. Chester Moore, also of San Francisco. With Mrs. Austin McManus will be Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Thompson, Riverside, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Colegate and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Edwards.

Adding gaiety to the first night's fun will be the blowing out of 18 candles on a birthday cake by Susan Strebe, who will be the dinner guest of her grandmother, Zaddie Bunker. Others in this party will be a group of Susan's classmates from Bishop's School for Girls in La Jolla, who are spending the weekend here, and Susan's parents, the Earl Strebes. At a table for ten will be Mr. and Mrs. Walter Braunschweiger, Mrs. B. J. Sanchez, Pierre Bouscaren, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Bremer, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ridder, new home owners in Palm Springs from Long Beach, and the S. P. Manasses. Mrs. Harold Bell Wright, who is deserting Palm Springs this winter for a 70 day cruise to South America with San Diego friends, will be with her houseguests, the Darwin Tings at the formal opening.

Mrs. Perry Johnson, another long time member of the Tennis Club, will preside at a party that evening, having as her guests Supervisor and Mrs. George Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whyte, Miss Maryon Toole, Lloyd King, Si Sandford, and Dennis Grant.

Sitting at a large table with Mrs. G. A. Berg will be Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gibson of Beverly Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Henry of Phoenix, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Loupe, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Wood, Mr. and Mrs. William Buckner, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kaufman, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hills, Mrs. Evelyn Dailey, Joan McManus and James Cross.

Jack Fugit is hosting a party, which will include Mrs. Vivian Davies, Dr. and Mrs. John Costello, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Atterbury, Mrs. Mary Bedford-Jones will be hostess to Col. and Mrs. Edward Banning, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, and John Rob-

P-T-A to Hear Curriculum Talk

Cahuilla Parent-Teacher Association meeting next Tuesday, November 18, at the school cafeteria at 8 o'clock in the evening will feature Mary Mitchell of the Palm Springs School District, speaking on "Curriculum." City Manager Pete Peterson will give a short talk on Civil Defense prior to the discussion of curriculum.

This curriculum study report is particularly timely as it ties in with Mrs. Mitchell's report to the Board of Education next Thursday night at the High School. After explaining how the curriculum is decided upon, what we have and why, what we might like and how parents can bring about needed changes, Mrs. Mitchell will answer written questions from the audience.

Copp Returns To Art Gallery For Fourth Year

PALM DESERT — The Desert Magazine Art Gallery announces that Dick Copp, noted western silversmith, has returned for the winter season to the Palm Desert gallery where he will begin his fourth year of mastercraft designing.

Copp and his wife, Marjorie, who is also a silver designer, spend each summer at Virginia City, Nev.

The Desert Magazine Art Gallery, largest of its kind in the southwest, is now open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Council to Honor Purcell's Service

Palm Springs City Council this week accepted the resignation of Dr. Frank Purcell from the Palm Springs Planning Commission "with regret" and planned to honor "the man who spent so many years in public service."

The council did not name a successor to Dr. Purcell, who also recently resigned from the Coachella Valley Junior College Board.

The Navajo Indians of New Mexico call themselves "Dineh," which means "the people" in the Athabaskan language which they speak.

DECORATOR MICHAEL BUCCINO stands in the doorway of his new offices at 73-720 Highway 111, where an "Open House" ceremony is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., Saturday. Buccino has invited the public to inspect the meticulous appointments of his new building throughout the day.

Decorator Office Building On Highway 111

PALM DESERT—Michael Buccino formally opens the doors of his new building at 73-720 Highway 111 — opposite the Palm Desert Pharmacy — with a general invitation to attend his "Open House" on Saturday, Nov. 15 from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The completion of the handsome new building, with its black and white exterior decor already a landmark on Highway 111, marks Buccino's twelfth year as decorator in the desert area.

With a wide and varied background of professional experience in Philadelphia and Beverly Hills, Buccino moved to Palm Springs in 1948. In 1951, he established his own studio of Interiors in Rancho Mirage and since then has decorated many of the outstanding homes in Palm Springs, Thunderbird and Indian Wells, and recently completed the model for the new "Firecliff Colony" in Palm Desert.

Said Buccino, "I have always considered the personality and likes of the owner the most important element in the decoration of a home. The colors they choose and the designs they prefer are the essence of comfortable and gracious living."

CHARLES NIENER, Viennese artist who opens a one-man show at Firecliff Lodge today, stands beside a sample of his work.

Charles Niener to Present Exhibition of His Paintings

PALM DESERT — Water-color artist Charles Niener, world-traveler, explorer and authority on South American natural life, will hold an exhibition of his paintings drawn from three continents, on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 14 and 15 in the lobby of Firecliff Lodge.

Although Niener adheres to no formalistic school of art, in his use of color and precision of detail he achieves an original blend of both early American primitive and modern.

VIENNA-BORN, his travels began at an early age. The pastoral landscapes of his native Austria claimed his first efforts. These he later transferred in a more studious vein to the craggy mountain peaks of Greece, Sicily and the Island of Corfu.

Following Hitler's rise to power, Niener fled Europe to South America. By this time he had made several trips to China and with his imagination captured by the kaleidoscopic, changing colors of the East, felt that only the equatorial light of a southern continent would be visually comparable.

In Quito, Ecuador, he remained for 14 years before embarking for America in 1954.

"JUNGLE LIFE in all its aspects—animal, plant and human—fascinated me from the start," he said. "No matter how far away I go, the fascination, I am sure, will prove to be lasting."

For two years Niener explored the Ecuadorian forests by any means he could command—by foot, on mule-back and with canoe—and he has brought back a lasting record of his stay in water-color paintings of native grass huts, Indian girls, bright-plumed birds and the dark-leaved, shimmering sea of jungle.

Mrs. Frances Hodgeman entertained a large group of her friends last Thursday with luncheon and bridge at Shadow Mountain Club. Her guests included Viola Brooks, June Goodwin, Dolly Olesen, Dorothy Pierson, Marge Brown, Frances Barry, Mary Ellis, Edith Jones, Kitty LaForte, Pat Steele, Mercedes Schwick, Edna Value, Edna Henderson, Fay Pautz, June Crux, Julie Vernier, Cytha Bear, Belle Keightley, Ann Schutz and Evelyn Sahland.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hagen of Aptos, Calif., have returned to the desert for the winter. They visit here every year at this time. Mrs. Hagen has recently recovered from a prolonged illness and is looking forward to the warm sunshine.

Mrs. June Whitelaw of Hollywood has been a houseguest of the L. G. Bairds for the past ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Olds, their daughter and granddaughter were weekend visitors. The young folk will return home in a few days but Russell and Laura are here for two weeks at least.

Mr. and Mrs. Mario Chamlee were houseguests of Mrs. Beth Grant this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Berry of Brentwood and their daughter, Alice, were visiting here for a few days. The family celebrated Alice's birthday at Shadow Mountain Club.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Anderson of San Francisco entertained a group of 12 friends for dinner at Shadow Mountain Club Saturday night. The whole party was from the northern city. Mrs. Anderson (Pat) resides here most of the winter.

'Winsome,' 'Folly' Earn Top Honors At Silver Show

PALM DESERT — "Winsome" and "Folly" are today the owners of a new gold cup and three prize ribbons which they did not possess last week.

And Mrs. Louis W. Jensen is the owner of a pair of fawn and silver whippet hounds, of which she is justifiably proud.

Entered in the Silver Bay Kennel Club show, held at the Del Mar Race track last week, "Winsome" and "Folly," one-and-a-half and two-years-old, respectively, by walking away with top honors will now compete for their championship points at the Riverside Kennel Club show, to be held in Hemet this Sunday.

Mrs. Jensen, who with her dentist husband, Dr. Harold Jensen, is a relative newcomer to Palm Desert, said, "I've always been interested in dogs — training them, racing them and especially showing them. In Washington State, where I lived as a girl, the men in my family were all horse-men or hunters but they cared about animals and I suspect it's an inherited trait."

"In Los Angeles for the last ten years, I've owned several Whippets but now in Palm Desert for the first time, I have the necessary leisure and room to do what I've always wanted to do—raise Whippets for show."

IN FRONT OF THE FIRST completed apartment of the Stardust Oasis, left to right, Anthony Costa, job superintendent, talks with Bobbi Trent, Floyd Andreas and Joe Costa about the $1,200,000 co-operative apartment project. The new Stardust Oasis will be located on Highway 111 across from Thunderbird Country Club. The project, planned by the firm of Wexler and Harrison of Palm Springs is expected to be two years under construction. (Desert Sun Photo).

$1,200,000 Project Started

One of the desert's newest co-operative apartments — Stardust Oasis — is now under way with one of the apartments completed. It was announced today by Joe Costa, promoter and developer of the project.

Costing in excess of $1,200,000, there will be 105 individual apartments built on a total of 12 acres.

Built across from the beautiful Thunderbird Country Club on Highway 111, and in the midst of the desert golfing capital, the apartments will be complete with individual patios, one and two bedrooms, carports, refrigerated cooling, all utilities underground colored fixtures and built-in kitchens.

Behind the development are three local people, Costa, Floyd Andreas, builder and former Orange County contractor and Bobbi Trent, land owner and noted woman flyer.

According to Costa the project will be built in several stages, and will be under construction for the next two years. The apartments will be purchased outright by the buyer and they will receive an individual grant deed on the property.

Stardust Oasis is located on the highway and built on the gradual slope of the land affording a panoramic view of the desert. The apartments were designed by Palm Springs architects Wexler and Harrison, and designer Anton Dalu will be made available to any purchaser of an apartment for advice in interior decoration.

Facilities of all apartment owners will include swimming pools, a recreation hall, and guest parking.

Gardening in the Desert

As is usual at this time of the year local nurseries have on display row after row of annuals in wooden flats. Browse around, study the attached name, then decide which and how many will fit best in your garden layout.

If your home is between the airport and Sunrise Way, in the north end of town or in Araby district you'll probably have rabbits and kangaroo rats to contend with. They are especially fond of young petunia buds and other annuals. We have even watched them chew a groove into a bed of dichondra. For the time being a protection of fine chicken wire might possibly hold them off.

TO HAVE A COUPLE of months growth before cold weather they should be planted early in October. Unless we have mostly sunshine and warm weather between now and the New Year newly planted petunias will do little but drink up your water until about the beginning of February. Flats of single, double or the dwarf variety will be on hand then.

For border plants there are also dwarf varieties from which to choose. For bedding purposes Violet Queen, Rosy Morn and Heavenly Blue would add glorious colors. Outside of the appearance of rodents petunias are not difficult to handle. If bedded in good, prepared soil regular watering and occasional light fertilizing should give you excellent blooms until the end of May and even later.

WE HAVE BEEN lax in bringing Sweet Peas to your attention before now. It's too late now for the early flowering Spencer seed; however, you still have another week in which to plant Cuthbertsons for early spring Sweet Pea blooms. To ensure good results Sweet Peas need more careful handling than probably any annual. We have found that best results can be obtained by digging a trench at least 12 inches deep, running north and south against a fence or a wall where the vines will enjoy the morning sun.

The amateur gardener has probably had little time to prepare his own compost so commercial humus and well-rotted steer manure will have to be worked into the trench. If there is no topsoil at hand a mixture of peat moss, leaf mold and sand in even quantities and to the depth of three inches will furnish the bed for the new seeds.

THE MIXTURE should be heavily watered for a couple of days before the seeds are planted. To allow for probable losses the first seeds should be three inches apart. When the tendrils get about four inches long it is time to thin out in the trench to a distance of six inches between plants.

In the desert we have found it unwise to use wire supports for the growing vine; metal retains the heat too long. We have had considerable success with the meshed string your local nursery can provide at a reasonable price. Endeavor to keep the trench damp at all times, but not soggy. Keep in mind the fact that the more flowers you pick the more abundantly sweet peas grow. T.G.M.

From Bum To Great In Week

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International
NEW YORK. (UPI) — Life is a matter of ups and downs for Charley Conerly and, when you're a passer booed and applauded by two distinct factions, you have more downs than you do ups.

Currently the Conerly stock is as high as it ever has been since he became a quarterback for the New York Giants back in 1948. His passing upset the mighty Cleveland Browns and the juggernaut Baltimore Colts on successive weekends which in pro football, is akin to whipping Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis in order.

But the two weeks before that were spent in sheer ignominy.

THE 37-YEAR-OLD Mississippi had one of the worst days of his career four weeks ago as the Giants lost to the Chicago Cardinals 23 to 6. The next game he sat it out on the bench.

"So I sure got a bang out of these last two games," he grins happily. "All of which proves that you have good days and bad days."

The customers, he figures, have a right to "get on" him. "I don't really mind it when they do," he says. "Sure, I did a few years back. There were times, more than once, when I thought of quitting. But I finally learned to figure that the fans pay the freight and are entitled to their opinion."

HE HAD PLENTY of time to practice on such a theory. There was a time, when Steve Owen still was coaching the Giants, that each game found signs hanging from the balcony: "Owen and Conerly must go," or "goodbye Charley." And they buried him in an avalanche of catcalls when the Giants looked so inept against the Cardinals last month.

But Conerly, a former star at Mississippi, admits that it does get him down when the writers knock his efforts.

And there is a decided faction among them who don't believe that he can hit the floor with his bat, or is worth much even when he can.

The Giant press box is a battery of typewriters divided. "What do you think of him now?" one of the Conerly supporters will yell when he does something eye-opening.

Then, when he is dumped for a loss a few minutes later, the other side snorts derisively: "What do YOU think of him now?"

Akins Too Tough for Sparring Partners

CARLINVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — Virgil Akins, the welterweight champion in training here for a title defense against Don Jordan at Los Angeles, Dec. 5, lost his second sparring partner Thursday when Willie Dillon quit because Akins was "working me too hard." Last week Wilbert Robinson quit for the same reason.

Third Session of Net Class to be Held Tomorrow

Third session of the Tennis Clinics sponsored by The Desert Sun, will be held tomorrow at Tamarisk City Park with the present enrollment of 60 young Palm Springs netters expected to increase again.

The clinics, held each Saturday morning from 9 to 11 are open to youngsters of the area from the ages of 9 to 14.

Dave Gillam, tennis pro at the Racquet Club is in charge, assisted by other well known city tennis players.

Gillam requested that all attending the clinics be dressed in white.

"It's a sort of tennis uniform," he explained.

Upset Special by Wood-Huskies Over California

By HAL WOOD
United Press International
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Saturday's pigskin picks:

Washington over California: Our upset special of the week. Mud is predicted for Seattle on Saturday—and those Joe Kapp pitch-outs, the bread-and-butter of the California attack, are going to be mighty slippery to handle. Huskies will be up for this one as it will throw the Pacific Coast Conference Rose Bowl race into complete confusion. By 7.

UCLA over Oregon: Bruins finally get the boys working together. They could have whipped California last week with a few more breaks. Webfoots let down after defeat by Washington. By 2.

Oregon State over Stanford: Beavers have the speed to cope with the slow-moving Stanford backs. Tackle Ted Bates probably will spend most of the day in the Indian backfield. By 20.

Washington State over College of Pacific: Cougars are making one of the great late-season come backs in western college football. Pasing attack should out-score Tigers and WSC line will be good enough to hold Dick Bass to reasonable yardage. By 7.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Bennie Oosterbaan today resigned as University of Michigan football coach, effective at the end of the current season.

Oosterbaan announced his resignation only an hour before the University's Regents held their monthly meeting, clearing the way for the appointment of former Wolverine great, Chalmers Bump Elliott, as the new head coach.

Tribe is Favored In Contest

Palm Springs High School Indians entertain Hemet High tonight in their annual homecoming game with a parade this afternoon of floats built by the students down Palm Canyon Drive, many half-time features and a dance after the game.

As to the actual football, the Indians will go into the contest slight favorites to win their fourth game against two losses.

COACH BALLAGH'S Tribe is currently in a three-way tie for second place in Riverside County League with a 3-2 record. Hemet is 2-3 and the Bulldogs want to bring that mark up to a 50-50 standard.

Loyal Hemet rooters, 275 strong, according to word from that city, will come with the team to root for the upset.

THE INDIANS are in top shape physically, Coach Clare Ballagh said this morning with one exception.

Guard Rod Johnson, who suffered a knee injury in last week's victory over Banning, may not get into the game.

Following the game there will be a homecoming dance at the Playhouse when the Queen of the event will be crowned by Joe Lewis, place-kicking captain of the Braves.

BACK TO FOOTBALL—the record of the two teams against the same opponents they have met this year is:

BRUINS	HEMET
20-13	Beaumont 13-33
47-12	Elsinore 6-9
7-13	Coachella 7-13
20-19	Banning 9-14
44-37

In other games tonight Banning (3-2) goes to San Jacinto, (2-2); Beaumont, (3-2) hosts Perris, (1-3-1) and Coachella (5-0) goes to Elsinore (0-5).

MRS. GEORGE HOLSTEIN of Newport Beach, member of Irvine Coast Country Club sharpens her putting eye on the practice green at the Sandpiper Owa-Yow-Owa Apartments in Palm Desert. She is entered in the Women's Golf Round Up at Thunderbird Country Club November 16 to 19.

Cimoli Believes

Dodgers Will be in The Race Next Year

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Outfielder Gino Cimoli blamed the San Francisco Giants and an "all-team slump" for the sad showing of the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1958—and at the same time predicted today that the club would be battling for the National League crown next year.

"Did you ever hear of every man on a team having a bad year the same season?" asked Cimoli, who winters here. "Well, that's just what happened to us last season."

"Once in a while it happens in football—for one day. Such as last Sunday when the Rams beat the Forty Niners 56-7. But we had a bad 'day' all year."

"AT THAT we would have been okay if we could have beaten the San Francisco club. My gosh! They beat us 16 games and we won only six from them. If we could have beaten them as many times as we beat Milwaukee (14) we would have been right up there in the race."

The Dodgers finished in seventh place, 21 games off the pace.

Cimoli had his poorest season in professional baseball. He appeared in 108 games, batted .345 and knocked in only 27 runs. The team as a whole batted .251—last in the National League.

WHAT WILL BRING the team back into contention in 1959?

"With the same club and the average luck," said Gino, "we should be right up there."

"Our pitching was good last year—but we couldn't hit. Of course, next season we expect Duke Snider will be in shape. That had knee hurt him last year."

"And John Roseboro will be a much better catcher with the year's seasoning."

Snider, for years one of the top hitters in the National League, appeared in but 106 games in 1958. He did bat .312—but knocked in only 58 runs. Carl Furillo, another top-notch slugger, batted .290 and drove in 43 runs. G. I. Hodges, usually a power at the plate, knocked in only 64 runs with a weak .239 batting average.

Was there any discussion on the club?

"Absolutely none, as far as I know," said Gino. "Watch us in 1959. We'll have the same guys and we'll be winning."

Thunderbird Host To Women Golfers

Annual Round-Up for Members and Guests Starts Sunday for Four-Day Tourney

Annual Women's Membership Golf Round-Up will start at Thunderbird Country Club Sunday with a large field of members and out-of-town guests entered in the four-day event.

The Round-Up will open Saturday, November 16, with a mixed Scotch foursome play.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the 36-hole medal play tournament will be played, 18 holes each day with entrants playing two out of the three days.

Tuesday evening there will be a fashion show with dinner and dancing. Prizes will be presented winners Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock.

The event is expected to attract 212 women golfers, the largest in Thunderbird history.

Mrs. Barney Hunkle is chairman of the entire Round Up. Mrs. Jack Kenastin, chairman of the social events and Mrs. L. O. Oake, prize chairman.

Among the leading southland women golfers entered are Jan Tarble and the Mmes. Ruth McCullah, Alvin Cox, Mary Coughran, Paul Gardner, E. S. Schweitzer, Nelle Staats, John Weismuller and Dorothy Workman.

3rd Major Loop Would Mean End Of Coast League

SAN FRANCISCO. (UPI) — The 36-year-old Pacific Coast League probably would be dealt the final death blow if a third major league involving West Coast cities is formed, a survey by United Press International revealed today.

The three largest franchises in the league were killed last year when Los Angeles and San Francisco went into the National League, eliminating lifese two cities, plus Hollywood.

Now Seattle, Portland and San Diego, three of the largest remaining cities, would be interested in joining a big-time circuit.

Knight Leads at Gardena by Two

GARDENA. (UPI) — Some 130 golfers took to the field today in the second part of the opening round of the $5000 Gardena Open.

Dick Knight, Gardena, captured an early two-stroke lead Thursday as he shot a six-under par 65 in the first half of the opening.

Knight, recent winner of the Northern California Open, scored with seven straight birdies and had only one bogey. He equaled a course record in the first nine with a 28, seven-under-par over the Western Avenue greenery.

The 28-year-old Knight emerged from the play with a two-stroke advantage over Zell Eaton, Chino, and Ralph Bonquist, Glendale. Eaton shot 33-32-67 and Blomquist, 34-33-67.

Anthony Favored 3 to 1 Over Ray

NEW YORK. (UPI) — Light heavyweight contenders Tony Anthony and Sonny Ray risk their winning streaks and their ratings tonight in a fight at Madison Square Garden.

Their 10-rounder will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC at 7 p.m. p.s.t.

CARDS SIGN WATKINS
CHICAGO. (UPI) — Bobby Watkins, former Ohio State University halfback released by the Chicago Bears, has signed a contract with the crosstown rival Chicago Cardinals.

PUC RULES 'NO JURISDICTION' IN VALLEY WATER DISPUTE

A complicated three-year-old dispute over distribution of water from a Palm Valley well was apparently settled by the California Public Utilities Commission this week.

The dispute started in 1955 when developer Anthony Burke sued Montague Herbert then owner of the well, for allegedly shutting off the water supply to Burke's property.

BURKE SAID HE carried his case to both the Superior Court and the utilities commission. The Public Utilities Commission subsequently ruled that Herbert's operations were those of a public utility.

HOWEVER, IN 1956, Harold Hicks and his Palm Valley Water Company were granted a certificate to operate a public utility water service in the same area. It was noted by the commission that its prior decision on Herbert's status referred to a "contemplated transfer of Herbert's water service obligations to the proposed public utility of Hicks."

BUT HERBERT transferred his property to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morich early in 1957 and Morich has been serving some of Herbert's former customers without charge, the commission reported.

In its ruling this week, the commission stated that since Morich is dispensing water on an "accommodation basis" to his neighbors, he does not come under commission jurisdiction and all previous commission decisions are revoked and discontinued, effective Nov. 30.

Lucy Norris Services to Be Held Saturday

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Whittier for Lucy Norris, 32-291 Sky Blue Water Trail, who died Wednesday at 9:45 p.m. following an illness of several years.

A native of England, she was a resident of Palm Springs for five years and of California for 36 years.

She is survived by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Heyl of Palm Springs, and two grandchildren, Shirley McPherson of Santa Ana and Charles Marble of Whittier.

Services will be held at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, from the Rainbow Chapel at Rosehill Cemetery at Whittier. Wiefels and Son Mortuary will be in charge of arrangements.

The family has requested that in lieu of flowers, contributions be made to favorite charities.

TOGETHER AGAIN after a six year separation are David Margolis, left, and Barney Ruben. In 1952, Margolis was vice president in charge of sales and promotion for Ruben's chain of Bond Stores. Now, Dave is an owner with Jack Dempsey of Howard Manor here. It was only natural that when Ruben decided on a Palm Springs vacation, he sought out former associate Margolis. The chain store operator will spend several weeks at Howard Manor, it was reported.

New Stop-Nixon Drive Under Way

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press International WASHINGTON — (UPI) — A new stop-Nixon movement was launched this week from—as usual—the White House executive office.

That is the way it was, also, in 1956 when Harold E. Stassen, a member of the White House staff, proposed that Vice President Richard M. Nixon be dropped from second place on the Republican presidential ticket.

STASSEN SUFFERED public humiliation on that one. He wound up his 1956 stop-Nixon campaign with a speech before the Republican National convention in which he seconded Nixon's nomination for vice president.

Stassen's next political adventure was in Pennsylvania where he sought this year's Republican nomination for governor. The Pennsylvania Republican organization opposed and licked him.

THE PENNSYLVANIA Republicans, in turn, were unable to elect their man for governorship this month so, obviously, they could have done no worse and might have done better with Stassen heading the state ticket. It is reasonable to believe, therefore, that Stassen plans another campaign for Pennsylvania's Republican gubernatorial nomination. That would be in 1962.

Stassen's first maneuver toward resumption of his political career came this week after a 60-minute political huddle with President Eisenhower. Stassen had a 30-minute appointment with the boss but spent an hour which suggests that he and the president found a wide and congenial field of political discussion.

EMERGING FROM the President's office, Stassen suggested that the Republicans had at least four men available who could win the presidency for them in 1960.

They were: Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller, New York U. N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., Massachusetts Secretary of Treasury Robert B. Anderson, Texas, and Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton, Nebraska. He pointedly left Nixon off the list.

STASSEN SAID returns from this month's election warranted ignoring Nixon as well as proving that he was right in 1956 in trying to get Nixon off the party ticket.

More will be heard of the stop-Nixon movement. It is likely to be in the pattern of the stop-Taft operation which led the Republican Party in 1952 to reject Mr. Republican, himself, in behalf of an illustrious, non-political general of the U. S. Army.

THE REPUBLICANS elected and reelected their general with triumphant majorities and now, six years after Mr. Republican walked the plank, the party is a shambles, an organizational wreck. The maneuver which stopped Taft in 1952 was mostly powered by a gradually spreading conviction that he could not win. That was the political word and it proved to be deadly.

The pollsters will be running Nixon soon against Rockefeller and perhaps against others. That's where the stop-Nixon men expect to get their muscle. That's how they expect to weaken Nixon's hold on the party's political pros, the local politicians, state chair men and such—the people who comprise Nixon's great political strength as of today.

County Defines 'Flood Hazard' Area; Grants Approval for 39 Reagan Homes

Resort developer Charles Reagan today has County Planning Commission approval to start work on his residential subdivision — but he can only build half his houses until flood problems are ironed out.

Planning commissioners yesterday agreed that 39 of Dr. Reagan's proposed homes are outside the flood hazard area just north of the Palm Springs City limits.

HOWEVER, COMMISSIONERS supported a Coachella Valley County Water District report stating that the remaining half of the subdivision is in a hazard area recommended for water-course zoning.

Dr. Reagan, who already has approval to build a trailer park and golf course in his development, plans to build his 39 homes on the east side of Sunrise Way on property extending 800 feet north of the northern city limits.

PROPERTY BEYOND that point extends beyond the flood hazard line drawn by the water district, according to County Planning Director Tyler Sues.

Commission action yesterday ended almost two years of hearings and study of the proposed watercourse area and its relationship to Dr. Reagan's property.

The water district had reported that a 100-year flood (a once-in-a-century torrent) would cover the area with more than 100,000 cubic feet of water.

DISTRICT OFFICIALS asked that all plans for human habitation in the proposed watercourse area affected by flooding be restricted and dependent upon suitable anti-flood works.

Commissioners agreed that the watercourse area should require dikes, but they felt that district flood figures were too high.

Commissioners rejected the district's estimated flood proportions in favor of reports submitted by the Long Beach engineering firm of Moffat and Nichol.

THE ENGINEERS were retained by the county last year to survey the watercourse area and the commission felt that their 58,000 - cubic - feet flood estimate "was more accurate because it is a more detailed and better analyzed survey than any other," Sues reported.

"The planning commission is not in conflict with the water district recommendations," Sues stated. "We are acting in complete cooperation with the district."

HARTFORD, Conn. — (UPI) — Whenever Arthur Mulhern wants mushrooms, he heads for the floorboard of his car, which has sprouted three crops of them so far.

Explanation: As part of his park department job, Mulhern tramps over a lot of mushrooms and he figures they grow on the floorboard because "I don't sweep out my car too often."
